BAY OF ISLANDS, NEW ZEALAND

A SUBTROPICAL MICRO-REGION KNOWN FOR ITS STUNNING BEAUTY & HISTORY

The Tasman Sea on the west and the Pacific Ocean on the east meet at the top of North Island at Cape Reinga. No matter what route you take you'll pass farms and forests marvellous beaches and great open spaces.

The East Coast up to the Bay of Islands is Northland's most densely populated often with refugees from bigger cities – looking for a more relaxed life – clustered around breathtaking beaches. The first decision on the drive north comes at the foot of the Brynderwyn Hills.

Turning left will take you up the West Coast through areas once covered with forests and now used for either agricultural or horticulture. Driving over "the Brynderwyns" as they are known takes you to Whangarei the only city in Northland. If you're in the mood for a diversion you can slip to the beautiful coastline and take in Waipu Cove an area settled by Scots and Laings Beach where million-dollar homes sit next to small Kiwi beach houses.

An hour's drive farther north is the Bay of Islands known all over the world for its beauty. There you will find lush forests splendid beaches and shimmering harbors. The Treaty of Waitangi was signed here in 1840 between Māori and the British Crown establishing the basis for the modern New Zealand state.

Continuing north on the East Coast the agricultural backbone of the region is even more evident and a series of winding loop roads off the main highway will take you to beaches that are both beautiful and isolated where you can swim dive picnic or just laze.

SIGHTS

- Waitangi Treaty Grounds
- Pompallier Mission and Printery
- Rainbow Falls (Waianiwanawa)
- Flagstaff Hill Historic Reserve
- Haruru Falls
- Urupukapuka Island
- The Parrot Place

THE STONE STORE

The Bay of Islands is New Zealand's foremost historic area, birthplace to Māori and Pakeha (European) relationships and home of the Kerikeri Mission Station with two of New Zealand's oldest buildings, Kemp House and the Stone Store.

The Stone Store was New Zealand's first architectural white elephant. Lavishly built from local basalt, supplemented by Sydney sandstone in the arches, jambs and corners. The store, together with the neighbouring Mission House now form a small museum.
