HONG KONG, CHINA

DISCOVER A SOPHISTICATED FUSION OF EAST AND WEST

When many people think of Hong Kong, they might envision a bustling metropolis filled with towering skyscrapers, neon lights, and throngs of people. However, beyond the concrete jungle lies a surprising amount of natural beauty, with a wide range of ecosystems, habitats, and species that call this region home.

One of the most striking natural features of Hong Kong is its coastline. With over 200 islands and 700 km of coastline, Hong Kong offers a diverse range of marine habitats, including rocky shores, sandy beaches, and coral reefs. These areas are home to an array of marine life, including crabs, sea snails, starfish, and a wide variety of fish species.

Moving inland, Hong Kong is also home to a number of natural parks and reserves. One of the most famous of these is the Hong Kong Global Geopark, which encompasses an area of over 50 square kilometers on the eastern side of the New Territories. This area is known for its impressive geological formations, including hexagonal rock columns, sea caves, and volcanic rocks.

Another popular natural attraction in Hong Kong is the Tai Mo Shan Country Park, which is located in the heart of the New Territories. This park features rugged mountain terrain, lush forests, and a variety of wildlife, including monkeys, birds, and reptiles. It's also home to Hong Kong's tallest peak, Tai Mo Shan, which stands at over 900 meters tall. Perhaps one of the most impressive things about Hong Kong's natural beauty is the way it coexists with the urban environment: famous Victoria Harbour is not only a hub of commerce and transportation, but it's also home to a variety of marine life, including dolphins and small fish. Hong Kong's natural beauty is an important part of the region's identity and culture. Despite being a densely populated and highly developed area, Hong Kong's diverse array of natural habitats and species continue to thrive, thanks in part to the efforts of conservationists and nature enthusiasts. Whether it's hiking through the mountains, exploring the coastline, or simply enjoying the green spaces within the city, there's no shortage of opportunities to connect with nature in Hong Kong.

GOING ASHORE IN

ALL PORTS OF CALL

YOUR SHORE CONCIERGE

We at Silversea strive to offer personalized voyages for our guests. Our aim is to empower you to discover the ports in a manner that best suits your needs. Whether this is a coach tour, a small group adventure, a private van, or a stroll through town, count on us to send you on your journey fully prepared. Our team has years of travel experience. We endeavor to gather the best ground operators and local experts, enabling us to provide current pragmatic advice.

In-depth questioning and personalized research allow us to suggest an authentic taste of each destination.

We face a formidable challenge when advising about our hundreds of unique ports. Each port's operations and customer service approach reflect the local culture. While we demand the best, the best varies from port to port. You will never hear a team member embellishing a tour, we will always be frank and honest about the quality. Occasionally guides will have accents, buses will have forced air instead of air-conditioning and roads will be bumpy. However, as travelers, we know what is important. We emphasize what lies outside the window, what we have seen, heard, and discovered.

EXCURSION INFORMATION

Port information and full tour descriptions are available on the interactive TV system in your suite for each port of call for this voyage. Excursion tickets cannot be exchanged after the cancellation deadline. A full charge applies for the additional excursion on the same day. We highly recommend to wear a face mask while on a bus.
